

(1)
The Royal Triumph :

A
P O E M.

To Her most Excellent MAJESTY
QUEEN ANNE,

*On Her going in State, to St. Paul's Cathedral, to return
Thanks to God, for the Success of Her Majesties Arms, in Conjunction with the Allies.*

7. Septemb. 1704.

Hail Britain's Queen, and Empress of the Sea!
The World's Protectress, hail!
May ANNE thus triumph e'ry Day,
And MARLBOROUGH thus prevail.
Your Pitty has gain'd Success from Heav'n;
Your Grateful Offerings pay the Score:
Whilst Heav'n you praile for Blessings giv'n,
Heav'n is engag'd to give you more.
May Vict'ry wait on MARLBOROUGH's Hand
As Conquest did on Barach's Sword,
And you like Debrah, rule the LAND,
And sing Thanksgivings to the Lord.
Rome's Antient CONQUERORS in Triumph rode
With Crouds of Slaves, to gratifie their Pride:
You, whilst glad Subjects shout on e'ry Side,
With Humbleness, in Splendor ride,
Not to be prais'd your Self, but to applaud your God.
When

When the ALMIGHTY'S Chosen People stood
 In Safety on the LAND,
 And saw th' Egyptians perish in the Flood,
 O're which their Leader stretch'd his Hand.
Miriam her thankful Voice to Heav'n did raise ;
 It was a Woman sung the Hymns of Praise.
 So, whilst Great Marlborough thro' the Danube drives
 The Armies of our Foes,
 Till the choak'd Stream the Bank o'erflows,
 Our pious QUEEN to Heav'n the Glory gives.
 The Statue of the Fam'd ELIZABETH,
 As if she'd see your Triumph, takes her Place
 Upon an Arch, thro' which in Pomp you pass :
 Oh ! If the Portraiture had Breath,
 How gladly for her Albion's Sake, she'd own
 You and your Rook, have Her and Drake out-done.

Hail Earth's best Queen, and Heav'n's best Servant, hail !
 We like the Jews, lay ready for the Blow,
 But you to GOD, your only MONARCH, kneel'd,
 And He to you his Gracious SCEPTER held,
 To shew his FAV'RITE shou'd prevail.

So, Hester for her People did not vainly bow.
 Rejoyce Great QUEEN, for You like Judeth, tread
 Upon the Gallick Hollaferne's Head.

To You the Emprour owes his Crown,
 You made his Son a King,
 And you support Him too.

How shall th' anointed Pair your Favors own ?
 Whilst You to Heav'n your Praises sing,
 Let them sing Praise to You.